Chance Slim for Electoral Reform Bill

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate will get another chance to cut off debate on a constitutional amendment for direct election of the president. But both sides see little chance of bringing the proposal itself to a vote.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, said a second petition to invoke the Senate's debate-closing rule will be filed Friday. Under the rules it will come to a vote next Tuesday.

A two-thirds majority is required. The first attempt last Thursday fell short by six votes when 54 senators voted for ending debate and 36 against.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., a leader of the opposition, said he is confident the second attempt will be defeated.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief sponsor of the House- approved amendment, said Monday he doesn't know of any votes that have been changed but expressed hope some will before next week.

The Senate, meanwhile, is going ahead with action on other legislation in a continuing drive for adjournment by the middle of next month.

But Bayh said that beginning later in the week he will try to bring "to a screeching halt" Senate consideration of everything but the electoral reform issue.

"We are going to make the opponents operate as if a filibuster was being conducted, which it is," he said.

Oppose Plan to Tax Air Passengers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airlines and the Civil Aeronautics Board have opposed a plan by President Nixon to tax air passengers for the cost of antihijack guards.

Chairman Secor D. Brown of the CAB said at a House Ways and Means Committee hearing Monday he was opposed to the tax plan. Although Nixon acted quickly and effectively on the hijack problem, Brown said, the CAB feels the government should pay for passenger protection.

"From a parochial and limited viewpoint — without regard to economic policy," he said, "my colleagues do not like the tax."

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe, however, said the armed guards would only be used temporarily. The longterm goal is to screen passengers for potential hijackers at all airline terminal gates.

Meanwhile, he said, the guards should be payed for by the passengers.

"Here we are going to be protecting one group of our people riding on a particular mode of transportation at a time when a critical situation has developed," he told the committee.

The Nixon proposal would raise $155 million over the next three years by raising the tax on international flights from $3 to $5 a head. On domestic flights the levy would be increased from 8 to 8½ per cent.

Opposition from the airline industry was voiced by S. G. Tipton, president of the Air Transport Association.

Irish Clean Cemetery for Nixon

By RODNEY PINDER
Associated Press Writer

TIMAHOE, Ireland (AP) — Workers today began clearing a weed-choked Quaker cemetery in Timahoe, 40 miles southwest of Dublin, where local residents say President Nixon's great-great-grandfather, Thomas Milhouse, is buried.

The President and his wife Pat, whose maiden name was Ryan and whose relatives are believed to live in County Tipperary, arrive in Ireland Oct. 3 for a three-day visit. Timahoe is on the itinerary.

On Monday, Irish newspaper reporters were unable to find anybody in the two areas connected with either the President's family or his wife's.

Nonetheless, at the request of America's ambassador to Ireland, John Moore, surveyors and landscape gardeners moved into the Timahoe cemetary to restore broken walls and tombstones and pull weeds.

Local residents say a heavy granite slab with an illegible inscription in the middle of the overgrown cemetery marks the burial spot of John Milhouse, who moved from northern Ireland to Timahoe in 1703.

On the first night of their visit, the Nixons are to stay in the 64-bedroom country estate of a family friend, John Mulcahy, president of Quigley Steel Corp. of New York.

The mansion, on 250 wooded acres 32 miles from Shannon Airport, is at Knocklong in the heart of Irish hunting country and not a long way from Tipperary.

Enemy Hits Hard at Cambodians

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Communist troops who have stalled the government's first major offensive lashed out at heavily reinforced Cambodian forces in two shelling attacks today, the military command reported.

A spokesman said the Cambodian troops, estimated at about 6,000 men, were pressing against light opposition into positions to try to envelop the Communist strongpoint at Taing Kauk, 47 miles north of Phnom Penh.

An estimated 2,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong are in the village. The enemy force has halted the government operation for nine days.

The spokesman in Phnom Penh said villagers in the battle zone have reported that some Communists were pulling out of Taing Kauk. He said intelligence reports indicate that the enemy may have decided to fall back to more easily defendable positions.

Premier Lon Nol visited the Taing Kauk area Monday, then went on to Kompong Thom to visit troops at that provincial capital 80 miles north of Phnom Penh. The government's offensive is aimed at reopening the area between Skoun and Kompong Thom.

The Cambodian command also reported four attacks in the past two days in the Phnom Penh area. It appeared that none of the attacks dislodged government soldiers from their positions. The spokesman said the government now has enough troops to maintain the pressure in its drive up Highway 6 to Kompong Thom and to deal with enemy pressure anywhere else in the country.

A South Vietnamese spokesman in Saigon said South Vietnamese forces with air and artillery support killed 54 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in a newly launched amphibious operation into Cambodia centered along the Bassac and Mekong rivers 35 to 50 miles southeast of Phnom Penh. One South Vietnamese was killed and two wounded.

Headquarters said the four-day-old operation did not change the number of South Vietnamese troops now in Cambodia, about 13,500, because the 1,500 marines and several hundred militiamen involved had already been in Cambodia on other operations that were closed out.

The U.S. Command reported that five Americans aboard a Marine CH46 helicopter were killed when the craft crashed due to unknown causes about 12 miles south of Da Nang early today. The crash brought to 4,057 the unofficial total of helicopters lost in the Indochina war.

Sentence for 10¢ Robbery Is Confirmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court Monday affirmed a three-year prison sentence against a teen-aged boy who allegedly committed a 10-cent robbery.

William Radcliff, 18, of Little Rock had appealed his conviction from Pulaski Circuit Court.

"It is immaterial of what value the thing taken is," the court said. "A penny as well as a pound thus forcibly extorted makes it robbery." The court added that the three-year sentence was the minimum fixed by law.

Radcliff was convicted of taking a dime from another [illegible] at gunpoint following a high school football game last year.

gether, as well as providing guidance to any party in determining the availability of surface transportation," he said.

The United Transportation Union will be free to strike one minute after midnight Wednesday.

Only Congress could order a halt to a strike in the dispute that has dragged through the courts, Congress and the White House for more than a decade.

The union is seeking to restore some 20,000 firemen's jobs that were eliminated under a special act of Congress several years ago.

Stafford said in the event of a rail strike, truckers will be allowed to start new or additional services to shippers.

"Because a transportation emergency will require immediate action for the provision of adequate service in the interest of the public and the national defense, a general temporary order will be issued to permit (motor) carriers to obtain authority for not more than 30 days to transport passengers or property," he said.

U.S. STEADILY

preferences for action were not clearly defined.

A State Department spokesman Monday refused to say whether Hussein had asked U.S. intervention. Other authorities later indicated the State Department and White House should be able to interpret the latest Hussein messages any way they wish — depending on what they consider the wisest course to follow.

At the United Nations, diplomats reported Jordan might ask for protective action by the Security Council, a possibility complicated by the fact Syria is a member of the council and Jordan is not. Syria stands accused by Jordan and the United States of sending some army units into Hussein's country.

France's attitude toward intervention — in wording which implied slaps at both the United States and Russia — was expressed Monday by President Georges Pompidoss who warned against any further foreign involvement in Middle East warfare. He said intervention is already creating a dangerous situation for world peace.

Diplomats said Britain feels a U.S. thrust into Jordan for any purpose might well make the situation worse and cost more lives.

The Defense Department announced that infantry and paratroop units in this country and Europe have been placed on alert for possible use in removing Americans from Jordan Extra Air Force C130 transport planes were deployed to airlift the troops. A third aircraft carrier, the John F. Kennedy, was reported speeding to join two flattops already in the Mediterranean.

Some medical units in Europe also were put on alert.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said if U.S. forces have to be sent into the country to get American citizens out, the Nixon administration hopes the operation can be conducted peacefully and by prearrangement with the government of Jordan.

So far as the 38 Americans among 54 hostages behind held after three recent airliner hijackings are concerned, however, the problem is not with the Jordanian government but the Palestinian guerrilla forces holding them in secrecy somewhere near or in Amman.

The Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine has threatened to kill Americans throughout the Middle East if the United States sends in troops.

The problem is how President Nixon could rescue the hostages or evacuate other Americans without multiplying the perils of death under which they already live.

Nevertheless, expansion of the conflict by Syrian intervention appeared to increase greatly the possibilities of U.S. involvement.

The White House and State Department announced the United States is dispatching two military field hospitals to Jordan to assist in treating casualties of the bitter fighting of the past week. McCloskey said the United States is discussing arrangements with the International Red Cross for getting the hospitals into the country.

Whether they would require regular troops to protect the doctors and nurses was not clear.

Thunderstorms Possible for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thundershowers are expected to spread slowly eastward across Arkansas through Wednesday.

The precipitation has developed in the warm, moist Gulf air ahead of and along a frontal zone which early today extended from North Central Texas northeastward to the Great Lakes.

Some thundershower activity may continue in the south and southeast portions of Arkansas Wednesday night as the front moves through.

High temperatures Monday ranged from 84 at Harrison to 94 at Little Rock. Highs Wednesday in the upper 70s northwest and in the 80s elsewhere. Lows tonight are forecast in the upper 50s to low 60s northwest and in the 60s to mid 70s elsewhere.

Overnight low temperatures included 72 at Fayetteville, 70 at Harrison, 69 at Jonesboro, 72 at Pine Bluff, 74 at Texarkana, 73 at El Dorado, 73 at Memphis, 70 at Little Rock and 75 at Fort Smith.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. include .05 at Harrison and a trace at Pine Bluff.

No Action on Legality of Purcell Post

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Neal Sox Johnson, executive director of the state Republican party, said Monday that to his knowledge there was no legal action contemplated regarding whether Joe Purcell could serve as chairman of the state Democratic party while continuing in office as attorney general.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Sunday at the Southern Governors Conference in Biloxi, Miss., that he "assumed" Republican party officials were at work preparing a lawsuit to question Purcell's continuing as attorney general. He was named party chairman Saturday.

Odell Pollard of Searcy, GOP state chairman, said he had not talked with any other GOP leaders about possible action, but he said the fact that Rockefeller mentioned it probably would "stir up some interest to look into the matter."

of injured were available.

Rocks and firecrackers were thrown at the entrance of the Tivoli Gardens, where McNamara was having dinner. Demonstrators also smashed the door of the hotel where he was staying and broke windows in offices of American Express and Pan American World Airways.

Inside the meeting hall, the richer countries prepared to squelch an effort by the poorer ones to get more "paper gold" as a form of financial aid.

Paper gold is another name for the Special Drawing rights —SDRs--created last October by the International Monetary Fund. Some $9.5 billion worth of SDRs are to be distributed by the end of 1972 as a means of building up national reserve funds that support the growth of world trade.

Most of the money is going to the biggest trading nations among the 115 in the organization. The United States got nearly $867 million of the first $3.4 billion issued. West Germany received more than $201 million. Bolivia and Lesotho got only $504,000 each.

Some experts hope that instead of gold, dollars and pounds, the world's central banks will one day hold the bulk of their assets in SDRs, giving them a kind of managed international currency.

Karl Schiller, West German minister of economics, told the poorer countries at the opening session Monday:

"Our common aim is to strengthen the confidence in the SDRs and to establish them firmly as a universally accepted reserve medium.

License of Insurance Firm Dropped

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner A. Gene Sykes Monday suspended United Founders Life Insurance Co. of Oklahoma City from doing business in Arkansas.

Sykes said the action was taken as a result of an investigation into the company's financial status by the Oklahoma and Arkansas Insurance departments.

Insurance Department attorneys were preparing a petition asking that the company be placed in temporary receivership and its Arkansas assets conserved in this state so that they cannot be disposed of, Sykes said.

Sykes said the petition would be filed in Circuit Court here to protect the 3,713 Arkansas policyholders.

Edmonds in Race for City Board

I am announcing to the voters and citizens of Hope my candidacy for Position No. 6 of the Board of Directors of the City of

R. L. EDMONDS

Hope, Arkansas, may I take this manner of soliciting the vote and support of every citizen, Revis L. Edmonds said today.

A successful owner and operator of the Gulf Service Station at the corner of East Third and South Shover Streets for past five years, I have become familiar with many of the problems of the city and its citizens. As a concerned citizen, and a husband and father, I am sincerely interested in the growth and progress of our city, and if elected will pledge my best efforts in improving all factors of city government and not to the advantage of any special interest.

Should you elect me to the office of City Director in November, I will assure each and every citizen that your problems will be heard and action taken to correct the situation.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Mrs. Kathy Ann Morphew

Before an altar of greenry, white gladiolus and candles Miss Kathy Ann Jones and Larry Keith Morphew were united in marriage. The ceremony took place 7:30 p.m. September 4th at The First Baptist Church of Norman, Ark. with Rev. Ross Williams officiating at the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Jones of Norman. The groom is the son of Mrs. Nettie Morphew of Norman and M. R. Morphew of Langley. Mrs. Freda Green, pianist, presented a program of pre-nuptial Music. She accompanied the solorist, Miss Janice Lowery, who sang, "I Love You Truly".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire self designed gown of bridal satin. The victorian neck was accented with lace and seed pearls, long bishop sleeves and chapel length train which fell from the waist line. Her veil of illusion was attached to a caronet of satin. She carried a cascade bouquet of fluer-de-amour and white gardenias. The bride gave her mother a nosegay of white mum on her way to the altar, and one to the groom's mother on leaving the altar.

Miss Carol Jones was her sister's matron of honor. Dorothy Morris of Valiant, Okla. was bridesmaid. They wore floor length gowns of blue satin with empire waist lines. Their nosegays were white mums tied with blue ribbon.

The flower girl was Jeanne Jones, of Norman, cousin of the bride. Her long gown was fashioned like the bridesmaid.

Candle lighters and ushers were, Ronnie Allen, Charles Wayne Williams and Ronnie Waggnor, of Norman. The ring bearer was Micheal Vines, nephew of the groom.

Bob Morphew of Mena served his brother as best man. Leon Vines of Norman was groomsman.

Mrs. Jones chose aqua double knit with matching accessories for her attire. She wore a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Morphew wore beige knit with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. Miss Patrica Morris of Valiant, Okla. was in charge of the guest book. The servers at the punch bowl were, Mrs. Charles Jones, Aunt of the bride and Mrs. Leon Vines, sister of the groom, of Norman. Serving the cake was, Mrs. Bud Collier and Mrs. Donald Jones, Aunts of the bride, of Hope. They wore white carnation corsages.

After a short trip, the couple are at home in Malvern, where the groom is employed.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. Bud Collier of Hope.

Dear Helen:

Caughtcha!

You said there is no truth in the "rumor" that you can sell a one-ince long fingernail to a cosmetic company for $50.00 I happen to know that Revlon will pay good money for them. —SMART

Dear Smart:

I sent your "facts" to Revlon and received the following reply:

Dear Helen:

For several generations a rumor has persisted that "a friend of a friend sold her long fingernails to Revlon for $50.00." This has NEVER been true and we are at a loss to explain how the tale started or why it fourishes.

Your helping to eliminate further growth of the canard by labelling it as totally untrue would save many a girl from nursing along "Mandarin length" nails in the mistaken hope of reaping great financial rewards. . .We work to make it possible for women to enjoy lovely nails — on their own hands! Sincerely yours, ANNE MEREDITH, REVLON

Dear Helen:

I guess there's always room for one more "What is a Mother?" so here's mine:

A Mother is the one who:

. . .Borrows money from you and when she pays you back she puts in some extra.

. . .Calls your hamster a "rat" when you first get it but when it dies she's as sad as you are and she helps you bury it.

. . .Gets a part time job so she can buy you more stuff without bothering your Dad about bills.

. . .Changes the filters on the fish aquariums when you're too tired.

. . .Hunts all over town for that one dress or certain pair of shoes you want.

. . .Listens to your secrets and you know she won't tell anyone — and tells you hers too.

. . .Buys you something for your birthday and then says it's from your brother because he forgot to get you anything.

. . .Cheers you up when you're sad and takes good care of you when you're sick.

. . .Makes the best spaghetti sauce in the world even though it's never the same twice.

. . .Gives you a VIP tour of where she works.

. . .She's the one you'd rather have as a mother than anyone else you ever knew.

Helen, I hear so many other kids complaining about their parents that I just had to write and tell you mine are the best. — L. B., AGE 13

Dear Helen:

I'm a little overweight and this guy teases me. I asked him not to make me the butt of a joke, and he said, "Why not, when you've got a joke of a butt?" Is that kind? —MAD

Dear Mad:

No, but kinda clever. Why not compliment this guy on his fast comebacks and maybe he'll start playing up to you instead of playing you down. —H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Young Lawyers" have joined "Storefront Lawyers." The former, making its debut Monday night on ABC, is really very much like the latter which started last week on CBS.

The main difference is that "The Young Lawyers" are law students practicing with cases brought into a neighborhood law office supervised by a member of the Massachusetts bar, while "Storefront Lawyers" are young attorneys employed by a law firm.

It is one of those occasional coincidences when two networks decide to handle similar ideas. The ABC series has a number of things in its favor, the greatest of which is Lee J. Cobb, an interesting, powerful performer even when he doesn't have much to do.

The series will focus on two students, played by Zalman King and Judy Pace. They will represent persons who can't afford a lawyer. The client in the opening episode was a young interne who when off duty had pulled an injured boy out of a wrecked car. The boy's father, convinced the young doctor's impulsive action had hurt rather than saved the boy, sued for $50,000.

The father withdrew his action before the case went to the jury after the young defense attorney showed the doctor was not one of those who played life safe but was willing to become involved.

"The Silent Force" which followed on ABC looks like a reincarnation of good old "Gangbusters." Three undercover agents will crack down each week on some segment of the criminal syndicate. Then a voice-of-doom announcer will say "one more tentacle cut from the octopus of organized crime but only one."

The tentacle in the opening show was a district attorney who had sold out to the syndicate in exchange for help in fulfilling gubernatorial ambitions. A local sheriff was framed and jailed but the good guys got there in time and caught the villains, no mean feat in a half hour.

Performers are Ed Nelson and Percy Rodriguez, both "Peyton Place" alumni, and Lynda Day. It is straight, old-fashioned action stuff, the sort of thing that "The FBI" handles in a smoother more leisurely way. But it is an excellent lead-in for the pro football game which, in most of the nation, will follow.

Showers For Miss Waddle

Miss Margie Waddle, bride-elect of Bill McKenzie, was entertained informally in the home of Mrs. McDowell Turner on Saturday afternoon, September 19th, with Mrs. Joe Purvis as co-hostess.

As they visited, the guests prepared rice bags of yellow net tied with moss green ribbons.

The hostesses presented Miss Waddle with a personal gift after which the guests were served a dessert plate. The serving table was centered with an arrangement of yellow and bronze mums in a silver container.

Mrs. David Waddle, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Jim McKenzie, mother of the groom-elect and Mrs. Clyde Snellgrove were among the guests.

On Saturday, September 12th, Miss Margie Waddle bride-elect of Bill McKenzie was honored with a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Roy Allison.

Miss Waddle wore a trousseau frock of red and pinned a corsage of fleur d'amour at her shoulder.

Other guests included Mrs. David Waddle and Mrs. Jim McKenzie mothers of the engaged couple.

Two Charged With Murder

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) —Two Missouri men have been charged with first-degree murder in the beating death of T. Fiveash, 53, of Hasty (Newton County).

Officials identified the two as John Gott, about 24, and Buddy Compton, 22, both of Branson, Mo.

Fiveash's body was found in a parked car on U.S. 65 near here Saturday.

Gott is being held in the Boone County jail and Compton is being held by Missouri authorities.

First American woman to receive a medical degree was Elizabeth Blackwell, who received her diploma with highest honors in 1849.

Coaches in Praised of Burnett

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —"He runs in all directions at the same time. Here and there and yonder, never the same way twice."

Coach Frank Broyles was describing the style of Arkansas tailback Bill Burnett, who snapped the Southwest Conference touchdown record Saturday night.

Burnett, a 185-pounder, scored twice against Oklahoma State—his 39th and 40th touchdowns as a Razorback. Doak Walker set the record of 38 touchdowns while playing at SMU in the late 1940s.

Burnett's consistency is impressive. He has scored in 21 of the 23 games he has played at Arkansas. He has had three-touchdown games against SMU (twice), Texas Tech (twice), Baylor and Texas.

"We design a lot of our plays to take advantage of his ability in short yardage situations," said Don Breaux, who coaches the offensive backfield at Arkansas. "He's going to get the ball on the goal and the other team knows it, but he has great determination . . . twisting and turning determination."

"He has a real wide base when he's running down there," Breaux said. "That enables him to go either way without losing momentum.

"He's very reckless," said Breaux, remembering the numerous occasions Burnett has hurdled through the air for a first down or a touchdown.

Breaux said he had seen one other back who reminded him of Bill.

"We were looking at some 1965 films and I asked who that tailback was and they told me it was Bobby Burnett," Breaux said. "He reminded me of Bill. They have a lot in common, their start, that twist and turn."

Bobby went on to earn Rookie of the Year honors in the American Football League while playing for the Buffalo Bills. The only significant ground-gaining and scoring record Bill hasn't broken at Arkansas is Bobby's 947 yards rushing total in 1965. Another brother, Tommy, was an end at Arkansas after Bobby graduated.

The football background comes naturally. Their father, Clell, was a high school coach.

Bill has carried the ball 490 times while piling up 2,045 yards in two years. Yet, he has lost only two fumbles.

"We never even talk about it, but Bill is very conscious of protecting the ball," Breaux said. "It's been ingrained in him."

Bobby did not lose a fumble while carrying the ball 232 times during his senior year.

Breaux says Bill is a conscientious football player.

"He'll come in and review the films even after we have finished, trying to find where he could have made a better cut or a different move," Breaux said.

Burnett seems to care little about the records, accepting them as a matter of course.

"Winning. . . that's the greatest part of it," he said.

Hall Keeps Top Spot in State Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Little Rock Hall continued to hold down the top spot this week in The Associated Press High School Football Poll.

Hall, 3-0 for the season, stung McClellan 30-6 Friday night. McClellan was ranked ninth last week but dropped out of the top ten this week.

Pine Bluff was ranked second again this week. The Zebras toppled Malvern 28-8 Friday night.

Jonesboro moved up from fourth to the third place spot occupied last week by Fort Smith Northside. Northside lost to El Dorado 20-13.

Springdale is ranked fourth followed by Little Rock Catholic and Arkadelphia.

El Dorado, in the Top Ten for the first time, holds down the number seven slot, followed by Northside, Hot Springs and Marianna.

Arkadelphia remained number one in Class AA followed by McGehee and Camden. Augusta, Stamps and Alma are the top three teams in Class A and Luxora, Hazen and Dierks are ranked 1-2-3 in Class B.

Syracuse to Talk to Ousted Blacks

By WILLIAM Morrissey

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Floyd "Ben" Schwartzwalder, the people for whom he works and the State Division of Human Rights sit down today to talk about football—and charges of discrimination.

Prompted by the growing controversy over the suspension of eight Syracuse black football players, the meeting was arranged after the Orange mentor received a telegram Friday from Human Rights Commissioner Robert J. Mangum. The telegram urgently requested reinstatement for the eight.

The Syracuse team, then in Houston for its opener in the Astrodome, played the University of Houston without the eight blacks and lost 42-15.

In the telegram, Mangum said the issue had been put before his division, that he was sure it could be conciliated to the satisfaction of all, and that he would fly to Syracuse to meet with all parties to resolve the problem.

Monday, Chancellor John E. Corbally Jr. announced he would appoint a trustee-faculty-student committee to thoroughly review the allegations made by the black athletes in a list of "expectations" they sought from the university.

The bulk of the discrimination charges have been brought against the football coaching staff under Schwartzwalder but some touch the entire athletic department as well.

Browns Take Decision Over Jets

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joe Namath and Leroy Kelly were supposed to be the offensive stars for millions of television viewers in the inaugural game of pro football's prime time telecasts. But the guys who moved the ball the best were the guys in the striped shirts.

The guys in the striped shirts —the officiating crew headed by Norm Schacter—moved the ball so well that they played a key role in Cleveland's 31-21 victory over the New York Jets and may have played a key role in the important ratings battle against Liz, Dick and Lucy.

For the first game of the heralded Monday night series on ABC-TV launched an attempt by pro football to increase its audience in direct competition with regularly scheduled programming that offered Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Lucille Ball.

An estimated 35 million viewers, including many women supposedly tuning in and turning on with pro football for the first time, were expected to be drawn by the glamor of the spectacle the sport has become but they may not have been impressed by the spectacle the game became.

In all, 21 penalties were called with a total of 262 yards marked off—more than the yardage gained by the Browns in winning the National Football League opener. The most damaging penalties were assessed against the Jets.

They were tagged with 13 infractions for 161 yards—a club record that obviously bothered Coach Weeb Ewbank. But, despite prodding, the roly-poly coach of the Jets refused to put any blame on the officials.

"Don't put words in my mouth," Ewbank said. "You're trying to put words in my mouth. We had some adversities, but we met a fine team and got licked. We can't do what we did and expect to win."

What the Jets did was amass 455 yards offensively, 299 as Namath completed 19 of 32 passes. But among the penalties were three for pass interference, three for holding and one for piling on plus. And there were three interceptions of Namath passes, a fumble by running back Matt Snell and a mistake in judgment by return specialist Mike Battle.

Pass interference penalties by Jim Hudson and rookie Steve Tannen in the first quarter enabled the Browns to score their second touchdown for a 14-0 lead. Then, after the Jets made it 14-7, holding penalties by John Schmidt and Randy Rasmussen blunted a drive that ultimately ended with Walt Summer's interception at the five.

After Homer Jones made it 21-7 Cleveland by taking the second half kickoff 94 yards for a touchdown, the Jets closed again with a touchdown before Paul Crane's piling on penalty contributed to a Cleveland drive that resulted in Don Cockroft's 26-yard field goal.

The penalties stopped at that point, and the Jets took it the rest of the way. Snell fumbled on the seven-yard line to kill one drive but Namath still closed the gap to 24-21 with a 33-yard touchdown pass to George Sauer.

Then the Jets got another opportunity when Cleveland was forced to punt. Battle, however, failed to grab the punt on the New York 30. It bounced past him and he was downed at the four, where Namath tried to get something started.

One completion brought the ball to the 18, but a second went into the arms of linebacker Mike Andrews, who returned 25 yards for the final touchdown as a dejected Namath stood at the five-yard line, his head bowed before the ear-splitting noise of a record 65,703 fans.

Oakland Fastballer Beats Twins

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

Only recently Vida Blue said, "You don't try to pitch a no-hitter". Somehow it's hard to believe the 21-year-old Oakland rookie left-hander, who only 18 days ago was pitching in the minors.

Monday night the A's fastballer tried and did it. He stopped the Minnesota Twins without a hit, giving up only one walk—a fourth inning pass to Harmon Killebrew on a 3-1 pitch—in missing a perfect game.

The A's won the game 6-0 as Bert Campaneris scored the first Oakland run in the opening inning after cracking a triple and then drilled a three-run homer in the eighth off loser Jim Perry, 23-12.

In other American League action, Baltimore nipped Detroit 4-3 in 12 innings, Boston edged Cleveland 2-1, New York stopped Washington 5-2, California nudged Milwaukee 7-6 and Chicago and Kansas City split a doubleheader. The White Sox winning 8-4 before losing 8-2.

In the National League, Cincinnati blanked Houston 2-0 and San Francisco trounced Los Angeles 7-0.

Blue, a 6-foot, 187-pounder from Mansfield, La., tossed a one-hitter only 10 days ago, beating Kansas City 3-0. He had a no-hitter for 7 2-3 innings before the Royals' Pat Kelly stroked the only hit.

After that game, Blue, now 2-0, after his fourth start for the A's this season, said:

"You don't try for a no-hitter. If you did, you'd be second guessing yourself. You'd be shaking off pitches you ought to throw."

Apparently he didn't learn his lesson as he struck out nine Twins, including the first two batters in the ninth before getting Cesar Tovar for the last out on a foul pop to first. He became the first rookie no-hit pitcher since Don Wilson of Houston did it in 1967.

A crowd of 4,284 was on hand in Oakland as Blue's masterpiece prolonged the West Division clinching for the Twins, who need only a victory over the A's to win their second successive crown. "I don't want the Twins to open their champagne in Oakland," Blue said.

"Pitching a no-hitter is lucky," said the youngster, who was 12-3 at Des Moines of the American Association.

He was more than lucky Monday as the Twins managed only three balls to the outfield and the closest Minnesota came to a base hit was in the fifth when catcher George Mitterwald lined to shortstop Campaneris, who made a leaping, backhanded catch.

Other no-hit gems this year were thrown by Clyde Wright of the California Angels in the AL and Bill Singer of Los Angeles and Dock Ellis of Pittsburgh in the NL.

Blue's best pitch is his blazing fast ball but, "his breaking ball came along good this year," said A's Manager John McNamara. "He's got a chance to be a real outstanding pitcher."

Rookie John Oates cracked a leadoff triple in the 12th inning and scored on Mark Belanger's single as the Orioles sent the Tigers to their fifth straight loss. Boog Powell had a two-run homer for the Orioles, his 35th.

Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli drilled homers in the Red Sox squeaker, their sixth consecutive victory. It was Yastrzemski's 40th and Petrocelli's 28th of the season.

Bobby Murcer and Danny Cater drove in two runs apiece and Jim Lyttle homered as the Yanks backed Fritz Peterson's nine-hitter. Peterson 18-11, was reached for Mike Epstein's 19th homer as the Senators dropped their fourth straight.

Jay Johnstone and pitcher Tom Murphy crashed homers but a two-run eighth inning triple by Roger Repoz proved the difference as the Angels shaded the Brewers. Tommy Harper slammed a pair of homers and Phil Roof had a three-run shot for the Brewers.

Bill Melton set a White Sox club record in the opener, ripping his 30th homer of the season while Paul Schaal had the big hit in the nightcap for the Royals, a two-run, sixth inning triple.

George Spriggs and Schaal homered in the opener while Rich McKinney had a homer for the Sox in the second game.

Don Gullett, Clay Carroll and Wayne Granger combined on a four-hitter in the Reds' triumph and Bobby Tolan stroked a run-scoring double in the second for the NL West winners. The Astros reached Gullett for two hits in five innings.

Willie Mays slammed his 28th homer and No. 628 of his career, added two singles and drove in four runs for San Francisco. Juan Marichal, 12-10, tossed a six-hit shutout, his first blanking of the year as the Giants snapped the Dodgers' four-game winning streak and gained a tie for second place in the West with their West Coast rivals.

Memphis Man Leads Senior Golf Play

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Curtis Person, the Memphis, Tenn., auto dealer who is shooting for his third straight title had the best round Monday as qualifying began for the 16th U. S. Seniors Golf Championship.

The 60-year-old Person had a one-over-par 73 on the 6,440-yard California Golf Club course in South San Francisco.

A field of 130 golfers 55 and older will be cut to 32 after Tuesday's second qualifying round. Match play begins Wednesday, with the finals scheduled Saturday.

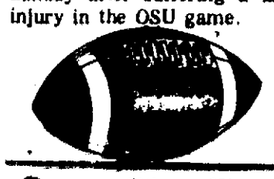

Birdwell Is Lost for the Season

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks worked out in sweat clothes Monday trying to work out soreness from Saturday night's 23-7 victory over Oklahoma State.

Coach Frank Broyles gave praise to linebacker Ronnie Jones and defensive end Bruce James for "outstanding" plays in the OSU game.

Monster man Steve Birdwell of Murfreesboro will be lost to the Porkers for the rest of the season.

Birdwell underwent surgery Sunday after suffering a knee injury in the OSU game.

Down 2-0, Aussies to Try Again

By JANE M. DOZIER

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The Australians, with some wind taken out of their sails, go back in pursuit of the elusive America's Cup again today.

But they'll be down 2-0 to America's Intrepid instead of deadlocked 1-1 because the New York Yacht Club race committee disqualified Gretel II Monday, making her the loser instead of the winner of Sunday's brilliant match.

Officially, the Aussies kept their upper lips stiff. Sir Frank Packer, head of the Gretel II syndicate, said he was "disappointed with the decision. But the best thing to do is to go out and win four straight."

A 15-25 knot southwest wind is predicted, giving Gretel II a chance to see if she can take her rival in heavy air as well as light.

Both yachts had protested following a collision at the start of the second race. The committee upheld Intrepid and ruled Gretel II had fouled her.

Privately some Australians, noting that the race committee was judge and jury for a race it was running, called the ruling "a hometown decision".

Jim Hardy, Gretel II's co-helmsman, was more moderate. He said on being notified: "I don't see how they could have reached that verdict" and turned back to work on his boat which had been slightly damaged in the collision.

Martin Visser, who shares steering with Hardy, said the committee "was in an impossible situation. They want to be fair. But they still don't want to see the cup leave that shelf in New York."

There has been some talk that protests of the cup races should be judged by an international panel.

B. Devereaux Barker III, chairman of the NYYC race committee, said such a body was a possibility that would be considered. "My own mind is not made up."

But, he added: "We try to be men of honor and I think members of the the committee would not reach their position in life if they were not honorable men.

"It is probably hard to convince world opinion that we're impartial. But I know in my own conscience and in that of the entire committee that we were entirely impartial to both sides."

Barker was asked if both sides agree on the facts of the dispute? "No. Certainly not!" Visser cried before Barker could reply.

Protests by both yachts were disallowed in the first race over a starting incident.

Gretel II's loss of a race she had initially won to the race committee's judgment was the first such incident in America's Cup racing since 1895.

Hope Residents See the Sights at Rockefeller Center

..Visitors from Hope, Arkansas, included the Promenade Cafe among their stops as they toured Rockefeller Center during their recent trip to New York City. After their visit to the famous outdoor restaurant they took a guided tour of the 18-building midtown Manhattan business and entertainment complex, climaxed by a visit to the 850-foot high Observation Roof. The group then visited Radio City Music Hall, where they watched a first-run motion picture and saw a live stage show, featuring the world famous Rockettes. Their visit to Rockefeller Center was then rounded out by having dinner in the elegant Rainbow Room, 65 stories above street level in the RCA Building.

Frazier, Foster Start Training for Title Fight

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Frazier, heavyweight boxing king, and light-heavyweight champion Bob Foster were set today to begin training for a 15-round heavyweight title fight here Nov. 16.

Frazier, who is to make the first defense of the title he won in June, 1969, signed for the title match with Foster Monday.

"The live gate will be over half a million dollars and with closed circuit television rights, the total take should be in the $2 million area," said former boxing referee Lou Handler, head of the newly formed Twenty-first Century Promotions, Inc., of Detroit, the group which is staging the fight at the Cobo Arena.

The fight contract carried no rematch clause.

Michigan Boxing Commissioner Chuck Davey did not rule out the possibility that the winner of the bout might defend the heavyweight crown in Detroit against Cassius Clay, former heavyweight champion who recently got the green light from a New York federal judge to resume his boxing career after several years of litigation.

"We never refused Clay a license and if the time comes when a fight between him and the winner of this fight seems to be in order, we would have no objection," Davey said.

Foster has had 43 fights, with 39 wins by knockout or decisions and only four losses.

Foster, who won his title in May, 1968, said that after his four successful defenses of his laurels he figured it was time to move up.

"I plan to come in at about 179 or 180 and after watching Frazier's recent fights, I figure I have a good chance of beating him with my speed and a good right hand."

Frazier, who won the heavyweight crown against Jerry Quarry in New York on a seventh-round technical knockout on June 23, 1969, said: "I never let anybody push me around, especially in the ring and I am to be boss right from the first bell."

S. African Tennis Pro Is Attacked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Hewitt, South Africa's leading tennis pro, has been eliminated from the Pacific Southwest Open championships in a verbally heated match, then knocked into a hospital by a 75-year-old spectator.

Witnesses said Hewitt, 30, went to the Los Angeles Tennis Club locker room shortly after losing his first-round match Monday when the spectator struck him "two or three times from behind" on the head.

Hewitt, who had lapsed into semi-consciousness on the locker room floor, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital where X rays showed no fracture. He was admitted to the hospital for about two days of observation for a slight concussion.

The spectator was identified as a long-time member of the tennis club. He was not held and police were not called, officials said.

"Naturally, I was provoked," the man said later at his home. He said his attorney advised against further comment.

The umpire of the match between Hewitt and Mexico's Joaquin Loyo-Mayo said he had to reprimand Hewitt for using "bad language" and for "delaying tactics."

The umpire said the spectator had to be escorted from the court during the match after exchanging insults with Hewitt. He and Hewitt also argued at courtside at the conclusion of the match as, the umpire said, Hewitt asked for names of three linesmen with whom he had disputed calls.

Loyo-Mayo won the match, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Hewitt, an independent pro who moved from his native Australia to South Africa in 1964, has a history of incidents ranging up to a 1969 locker room brawl with British pro Roger Taylor at the Berlin Open.

Monday's locker room incident occurred after 18-year-old Jim Connors of Santa Monica, Calif., upset fourth-seeded Roy Emerson, Australia's two-time Wimbledon champion, 7-6, 6-7, 6-4.

Indians Get in a Fine Practice

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University's Indians ran through drills in shorts and head gear Monday and had what Coach Bennie Ellender termed a "very fine practice."

The Tribe worked on punting and then spent time viewing formations and plays employed by Southeast Louisiana. The Indians face the Lions Saturday night at Hammond, La.

"The team looked very good Monday and we appear to be getting stronger," Ellender said.

Texas Gains But Ohio State Tops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio State's Buckeyes, still awaiting their 1970 debut, continue as the No. 1 major college football team in the nation but the Texas Longhorns have served notice of their intention to claim and keep the top spot.

Ohio State drew 14 first-place votes and 645 points in this week's Associated Press poll while Texas, 56-15 winner over California in its opener last Saturday, closed to within 13 points of Ohio State and outdrew the Buckeyes in first-place votes with 16.

Stanford ripped San Jose State 34-3 and moved from fourth to third, Penn State advanced from seventh to fourth after trouncing Navy 55-7 and Mississippi remained fifth after mauling Memphis State 47-13.

Notre Dame, 35-14 conqueror of Northwestern, held on to sixth, while Southern California, No. 3 the previous week, found itself in seventh after a 21-21 tie with Nebraska which moved from ninth to eighth.

Missouri, which crushed Minnesota 34-12, advanced from tenth to ninth while Michigan fell from eighth to 10th after struggling past Arizona 20-9.

The Second Ten, in order, are Houston, Arkansas, Florida, Oklahoma, UCLA, West Virginia, Tennessee, Colorado, Georgia Tech and Air Force.

Louisiana State, Kansas State, Georgia and Arizona State all fell from the rankings.

Royal Reminds Its Only One Game So Far

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Ariter

AUSTIN (AP) — To those who rave about Texas' 1970 team getting off to a better start than last year's national champions, coach Darrell Royal says, "The 1969 team won 11 games. This one has won one."

The national championship team won a hard-fought 17-0 victory over California in the 1969 opener, and last Saturday the new Longhorns overwhelmed what was supposed to be Cal's best team in six years, 56-15.

"Everything broke right for us," Royal told a news conference Monday. "That was one of those games that gets you lulled into not having the proper view.. ..It gives you a false impression."

He predicted, "There will be three, maybe four, games in the next nine decided by less than a touchdown. The margin between victory and defeat will be hanging in the balance."

Royal describes this week's opponent, Texas Tech, as "obviously well-coached, and they have their minds made up to what they want to do."

Obviously what the Red Raiders would like to do is bump off Texas, just as they did in 1968—the last time Longhorns lost a game before starting a 21-game winning streak.

Tech is "well honed and drilled as a unit," Royal said. "Anyone with a technical knowledge of football can get the films of the Tech games and tell they know what they're doing. And they're not without people to play with."

Quarterback Charles Napper "is doing a great job," Royal said, adding that Napper's 20 pass completions in 32 attempts "is enough to give us concern."

Also, he said, "They've got north-south runners, not rural runners. They just back off and get at you.

He predicted the sell-out crowd will be at a pretty good fever. They'll be perked up. And you can run a little faster and jump a little higher when the adrenalin gets flowing."

Royal said Texas came through the Cal game without any major injuries, and the lineup would stay the same for Tech, including transplanted linebacker David Richardson at tight end. Deryl Comer, an All-SWC end in 1968, was in for about 20 plays against Cal, testing an injured knee that has sidelined him since the 1969 Cotton Bowl game, but Royal said, "He's not ready to start."

Royal said his first two offensive teams were "sharp" against Cal and his No. 1 defense "left little to criticize. They were solid in every respect."

Royal praised quarterback Eddie Phillips' "artistic" job of handling the wishbone-T offense and end Bill Atessis, linebacker Scott Henderson and halfback Danny Lester on defense.

Unser Could Set Record in Auto Racing

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Al Unser, winner of the 1970 Indianapolis 500, needs three victories in the five remaining U.S. Auto Club races this year to set a record of 12 wins. He thinks he has a good chance to do it and plans to start here in the Trenton 300 race Sunday.

"I think we have a good shot at it unless something goes wrong between now and the end of the racing season," the 31-year-old racer said.

The 300 consists of 200 laps around the Trenton Speedway's 1½ mile kidney-shaped asphalt course.

Unser, brother of 36-year-old racer Bobby Unser, already has locked up the USAC championship, even if he would fail to get a point in the final five races. Jim McElreath, who is second, is too far away to catch up.

The Albuquerque, N.M., driver, whose entry Sunday will be the same No. 2 Johnny Lightning Colt with a Ford engine he drove to victory in the Indy 500, says it doesn't make much difference what he drives.

Test Tube Democracy

Think of television networks and jet transportation, and the United States will appear to be one vast, interconnected unit.

But think of traffic laws and fishing regulations and the real estate taxes and grounds for divorce, and the United States will appear to be a jumble of diversities.

Such diversities can be confusing. But they are also rewarding in a way that is too often overlooked. Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis once put the matter as follows:

"It is one of the happy incidents of the federal system that a single courageous state, may, if its citizens choose, serve as a laboratory; and try novel social and economic experiments without risk to the rest of the country."

This advantage of diversity is not the least bit theoretical. On the contrary, there are countless examples of one state leading the way, trying out a new idea, while other states wait and see how it works—very much like a scientist watching an experiment in a test tube.

For instance: is it a good idea to give the customers of door-to-door salesmen a "cooling-off period," during which they may reconsider and cancel the order?

Some say this would protect the gullible buyer from high-pressure salesmanship. Others say it would put an unfair burden on the legitimate firms engaged in this field. A number of states are now putting the idea to a test.

Or: is it a good idea for the state to pay compensation to the victims of violent crime?

Some say this would be fulfilling a moral obligation of the state. Others say it would be just another costly boondoggle. Several states are now trying it out.

Of course, no two states are exactly alike. Lawmakers, considering a new program, will weigh local conditions and consult local opinion. Yet, they will also be influenced by finding out what actually happened when the idea was tried in a sister state.

"The science of government," said an earlier Supreme Court, "is the science of experiment."

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Take Pressure off Bone Spur with Heel Pad

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—An X ray shows a bone spur on my heel. It is very painful. Can it be dissolved or must it be cut out?

A—These spurs are seen most often in heavy men who are over 50. Poorly fitted shoes and arthritis will aggravate the condition. The spur cannot be dissolved. Injections of hydrocortisone or surgical removal are usually followed by a recurrence. The best treatment is to wear a heel pad so shaped that it will take the pressure off the tender spot.

Q—By what diagnostic methods are osteoporosis and osteomyelitis differentiated, especially in their early stages? What causes them?

A—In osteoporosis there is a diffuse loss of calcium from the bones, especially those of the spine. When a vertebra becomes sufficiently weakened it may collapse. Osteomyelitis is an infection of the bone marrow that may affect any bone. It causes an increase in the white blood cell count. The bone in the infected area dies, after which it acts as a foreign body and must be removed.

Osteoporosis is painless in its early stages but osteomyelitis is acutely painful. The X-ray changes are different and distinctive.

Osteoporosis may be caused by a diet deficient in fluorine, calcium and phosphorous or prolonged use of drugs of the cortisone group. It is especially common in women who have passed the menopause. Osteomyelitis is usually caused by staphylococci which may reach the marrow through a fracture or through the blood stream.

Q—My husband has a low grade osteomyelitis in his right knee. He was put on penicillin for a couple of weeks, then switched to Unipen. Now he is taking Lincocin but, after four months, he is no better. Why does it take so long to stop the pain and heal the disease? Will he ever recover? Could this lead to cancer?

A—Before the advent of antibiotics osteomyelitis was almost impossible to cure. Today the situation is not so hopeless but special techniques are required to get a sufficient concentration of the drug in the place where the infection is. This necessitates opening the marrow canal and scraping out all the devitalized bone and irrigating the wound with the antibiotic. The risk of bone cancer is not increased by the infection.

Opening lead—♦ 3

Alan Truscott, the bridge editor of the New York Times, has just written a book entitled "Practical Bridge."

His theme is that the winner at bridge isn't the man who performs most brilliantly but rather the man who makes the fewest mistakes.

Today's hand illustrates the mistakes of not looking ahead at your first turn to bid.

When this hand was played in a New York tournament some players made the mistake of opening one club or one heart instead of one no-trump. This left them a hopeless problem at their second turn. Some jumped unsoundly; they reached game. Others underbid and wound up at one no-trump.

The bidding in the box shows a normal Stayman response to a one no-trump opening followed by a jump to three no-trump by responder.

Three no-trump makes easily with careful play. South wins the diamond lead in his hand and returns the suit. West's best play is to duck, whereupon the time for care has arrived.

South can count four hearts, three diamonds and a club but he can't afford to go after his third diamond immediately. If he does that West can set up his fifth diamond and the defense will be able to collect two diamonds, two spades and a club. Instead, South should simply lead his queen of clubs or a low club toward dummy's jack. If West takes the king and clears the diamonds, South will have set up a second club trick to go with the three diamonds and four hearts. All other lines of defense are equally futile and South has his game.

S. Governors Prevent a Left Takeover

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Two southern Democratic governors say their party is moving into the political center nationally, averting what one of them described as a threatened takeover by "the so-called new left."

Gov. Robert W. Scott of North Carolina, chairman of the Democratic Governors Caucus, and Gov. Robert E. McNair of South Carolina said Lawrence F. O'Brien, the party chairman, is guiding the national organization to a middle-of-the-road position.

And both men disputed Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's statement that the Democrats are identified in the mind of the voter with radical liberal elements and violent dissenters.

"The Republicans would like to think that," McNair said in an interview at the Southern Governors Conference.

"There's more political rhetoric by the vice president with his usual skillful use of words," said Scott.

"The Republicans would like to nail us to the wall as Democrats and use a blanket indictment that all Democrats are extreme liberals," Scott said. "That is just not the case."

McNair and Scott both pronounced themselves satisfied with O'Brien's course as national chairman. McNair in particular had been a vehement critic of O'Brien's predecessor, Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma.

Agnew, who is campaigning today in Memphis, Tenn., has said he intends to keep reminding the voters that some Democrats have "come lately" to middle-road positions, particularly on the issue of law and order.

Scott said relations between the Democratic governors—an 18-man minority in the 50 state capitals—and the national committee have improved markedly since O'Brien took over. "As governors, we wanted to be assured that we were being listened to, that we would have some impact," he said.

Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox said he wasn't satisfied with either party. "Both of the parties —Republican and the Democratic—are still trying to out-liberalize and out-socialize each told a news conference.

As the 36th Southern Governors Conference scheduled a windup business session today, Deep South governors appeared to lack the votes to win adoption of any resolution condemning the busing of school children for the sake of racial balance.

A parliamentary wrangle was likely after Democratic Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri said Monday his resolutions committee had completed its business and would not consider any new measures. No busing resolution had been proposed to the committee at that point, and the Hearnes ruling meant that any such measure would have to gain a three-fourths conference vote for adoption.

"When you get up into those high porportions, I would doubt whether it would be passed," said Republican Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, the conference chairman.

LIMESTONE, Maine—Staff Sergeant Cecil M. Bittle Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil M. Bittle Sr., Hope, Ark., has received the U. S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Caswell Air Force Station, Maine.

Sergeant Bittle was decorated for meritorious service as an electronics technician with the 717th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron at Tatalina Air Force Station, Alaska.

He is now at Caswell with the 766th Radar Squadron, a unit of the Aerospace Defense Command which protects the U. S. against hostile aircraft and missiles.

The sergeant is a 1957 graduate of Hope High School. His wife, Audry, is the daughter of Mrs. Hazel A. Bright of Hope.

Charges WR With AL&T Book Linking Faubus

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ernest A. Bartlett Jr. of Fort Smith, former chief executive of Arkansas Loan & Thrift Corp., has alleged that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and an aide offered to pay for the writing of a book to incriminate former Gov. Orval E. Faubus in connection with AL&T.

A lawsuit has been prepared in which Bartlett alleges breach of contract by Rockefeller and Glen Jermstad, an administrative aide to the governor.

Bartlett contends that a verbal contract was reached with Jermstad after Faubus had filed for the Democratic nomination for governor. He claims the contract was breached after Faubus failed to win the nomination in the runoff election Sept. 8 with Dale Bumpers.

The suit alleges that Jermstad identified himself as Rockefeller's representative in meetings with Bartlett in June.

Bartlett reportedly planned to file the proposed suit in Pulaski Circuit Court Monday, but did not appear. There were reports that a negotiated settlement might be reached and the suit consequently might not be filed. Bartlett asks for $60,000 in the suit.

Rockefeller's attorney, Thomas E. Downie of Little Rock, told reporters late Monday, "If there was any negotiation (between Bartlett and Jerstand), it was without the knowledge of the governor."

Sam A. Sexton Jr. of Fort Smith, Bartlett's attorney, declined comment Monday about the proposed suit. Sexton represented Bartlett when the AL&T executive was convicted last September on 26 counts of fraud in connection with the corporation's operations.

AL&T was put in receivership in September 1968. The investment firm came into being in 1964, when Faubus was governor.

Faubus has maintained that he was unaware of the operations of AL&T. A number of Democratic party figures were connected with the company.

Jermstad, with Rockefeller at the Southern Governors Conference in Biloxi, Miss., said he had negotiated to buy a piece of property owned by Bartlett.

Discussions about the book entered the picture as a means by which Bartlett would obtain funds with which to repay Jermstad for money the governor's aide would advance on the property, Jermstad said.

Jermstad said that Bartlett was to receive a $19,000 loan from Jermstad to satisfy creditors who were seeking through lawsuits to foreclose on overdue mortgages, then repay the loan, then sell the property to Jermstad.

Jermstad said his attorney, James R. Howard of Little Rock, decided the deal was not a good one because it was shadowed by the federal government's action against Bartlett.

The property in question is a farm owned by Bartlett and his wife near Magazine.

The proposed suit said that after the meetings with Jermstad it was agreed that Bartlett would write a book about the affairs of AL&T. The agreement was oral, not written.

According to the proposed suit, the book would contain statements "derogatory or incriminatory of one Orval E. Faubus, at that time also a candidate for governor of Arkansas"; that Rockefeller would cause to be purchased all of the various mortgages outstanding on Bartlett's farm in Logan County; and that upon delivery of the book Jermstad and Rockfeller would cause all of the mortgages to be "canceled, surrendered and forgiven without payment."

The proposed suit said that on Jermstad's instructions Bartlett went to Houston, Tex., to confer with Gus Wortham, which the Texas Commerce Bank National Association in Houston identified Monday as a director of the association since 1927.

The proposed suit said Bartlett was advanced $10,000 in the form of a loan and that Bartlett signed and delivered a note to the association for the $10,000.

The proposed litigation claimed that Jermstad said the $10,000 was to be used in the preparation of the book and that the note would be surrendered to Bartlett when the book was ready and delivered.

It was alleged that the day after Faubus' defeat Jermstad asked Bartlett to come to his office in Little Rock.

The proposed suit said that Jermstad told Bartlett in Little Rock that he was sorry but that the contemplated transaction was of "no future value" to Rockefeller and would not be closed according to the agreement.

Ballots Mailed for General Election

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The secretary of state's office has mailed ballots showing the state and district races for the Nov. 3 general election.

The ballots were mailed Monday, three days before the deadline.

There will be contests for only four statewide positions — governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general.

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant is opposed by Republican Jim Sheets of Siloam Springs.

The governor's office candidates are Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who is the GOP nominee; Democrat Dale Bumpers of Charleston; and the American party nominee, Walter Carruth of Lexa.

Dr. Bob Riley of Arkadelphia is the Democratic nominee, Sterling Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock, the Republican nominee and Hubert Blanton of Hughes the American party nominee in the race for lieutenant governor.

Ray Thornton of Sheridan has the Democratic nomination for attorney general against American party candidate John Norman Warnock of Camden. There is no GOP candidate for attorney general.

Three proposals also will be submitted to statewide vote.

One seeks the repeal of the state's full crew laws, which require a crew of six on railroad trains of 25 or more cars.

Another proposal is the 1970 draft of the state constitution.

The third statewide proposal would authorize the issuance of construction bonds, if approved by voters, to buy land and build a state library building. A ceiling of $3 million was placed on the proposal.

Prosecutor Is Accused of Threat

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The chief prosecutor in the Sharon Tate murder trial has been accused of threatening a member of Charles Manson's hippie-type clan with the death penalty after alleging she and others tried to kill a state witness with LSD.

The accusations were made in an affidavit filed Monday against prosecutor Vincent T. Bugliosi. In it, Manson's attorney, Irving Kanarek, asked that Bugliosi be cited for contempt. The judge took the matter under study.

Out of court, defense attorney Paul Fitzgerald said Bugliosi had complained to the trial judge that members of the nomadic "family" had tried to kill 19-year-old Barbara Hoyt with a huge overdose of LSD.

Fitzgerald told newsmen Bugliosi alleged that Manson "family" members lured Miss Hoyt to Honolulu, charging the plane fare to a credit card from "someone who dropped out of society and gave it to them."

Bugliosi said they gave her a hamburger spiked with 10 capsules of LSD, which he called a near lethal dose. Later, he said, she was found wandering incoherent in an alley and was hospitalized. He said she is recovering in Honolulu and will testify for the state.

Kanarek said Bugliosi exchanged words last Friday with petite, blonde Sandra Good, 27, a prospective defense witness, who has been camping outside the Hall of Justice for five days.

In an affidavit accompanying Kanarek's request, Miss Good said Bugliosi called her obscene names and accused her of committing acts of sexual perversion with Manson.

Miss Good said at her post on the sidewalk late Monday "I'm going to stay here until Charlie gets out of jail."

Manson, 35, is on trial with three women followers, charged with murdering Miss Tate and six others in August 1969.

Of the accusations concerning Miss Hoyt, Miss Good said: "It's so absurd and outrageous and goofy. I know absolutely nothing about Barbara Hoyt."

Slavs' Tito Announces Retirement

BELGRADE (AP) — President Tito has announced that he will step down after ruling Yugoslavia for 25 years and turn the country's government over to a collective leadership.

Tito, 78, did not indicate Monday what his position would be, but it was believed in Belgrade, the nation's capital, that he would remain head of the Communist party and would run the new presidium, at least in its initial phase.

Further details will be announced later, Tito said.

"I am quite long in this post and I would like to have more possibilities to work on some other projects," he said in a speech Monday in Zagreb, the country's second largest city.

Tito, who broke from Moscow in 1948 and was named president for life in 1963, said reorganization of the country's Communist government was necessary to preserve Yugoslavia's unity. He gave no timetable for the changeover. But he said speculation on who might succeed him could provoke a crisis, and that to avoid it, governmental restructuring was necessary.

He explained that he initiated the change because "if someone else did, it would look as if they wanted to remove me."

Tito said he would be replaced by a presidium that would be "a form of collective president of Yugoslavia." The body would consist of representatives from the country's six republics and its main social and political organizations, including the Communist party.

Tito was a partisan leader against the Nazis in World War II and maintained close ties with the Soviet Union immediately following the war. But in 1948 his country became the first Soviet satellite to break away.

The United States was pleased by the break and provided Tito's government with more than $1 billion in assistance of various kinds. In later years Yugoslavia's relations with Moscow and Washington alternately warmed and cooled.

Tito's announcement was not expected to affect President Nixon's planned visit to Yugoslavia next week. However, any U.S. intervention in the Jordanian civil war could force cancellation of the trip because of Tito's close ties with Arab leaders.

Nixon Turns to New Rail Strike Threat

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announced today emergency transportation plans to move goods and passengers by trucks and buses in the face of Wednesday night's threatened nationwide railroad strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission announced the emergency plans while talks continued at the Labor Department in an effort to resolve the long dispute over elimination of locomotive firemen's jobs.

President Nixon has exhausted all present legal delaying measures to stop a strike.

"While both sides in a labor dispute most certainly have valid points of argument, the commission can only deplore a condition whereby a vital segment of our transportation network either stops or is forced to stop its service," said ICC Chairman George M. Stafford.

"The commission is hopeful that such a condition will not develop. However, if a work stoppage does occur, then it must remain the role of the motor carrier industry to handle emergency movement of traffic when the rail wheels are no longer rolling," Stafford said in a statement.

"Accordingly, the commission's 82 field offices throughout the nation will assist in bringing the shippers and carriers to-

Student Lashes Agnew Who Places the Blame on College Officials

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, debating with a student who called him a precurser of violence, has laid the blame for campus disturbances on the "permissive attitude" of college administrators.

Agnew's colorful rhetoric was singled out as a cause of college unrest by Richard Silverman, student body president at the University of Washington, who was one of four students participating in a taped television debate with the vice president Monday night.

During the 90-minute discussion on the David Frost Show, to be seen in most cities Friday, Agnew and the four students frequently disagreed over the causes of student violence.

Silverman charged that Agnew was "one of the greatest precursers of violence our country has ever seen."

The vice president replied: "To use me as a bete noire for the violence that has existed in this country because of the disgusting and permissive attitude of the people in command of the college campuses is one of the most ridiculous charges I have ever heard."

The exchange became heated when Silverman brought up the shooting deaths of four Kent State University students during a confrontation with National Guardsmen.

Agnew, citing the burning of the university's ROTC building, the harassment of firemen and the chanting of obscenities as extenuating factors, said he nevertheless deplored the killings.

"It is most unfortunate, as it appears now that the National Guard overreacted," he said.

Wants U.S. to Intervene in Bombings

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon urged Congress today to authorize immediate federal intervention in cases of bombings or arson on virtually any college campus and recommended the hiring of an additional 1,000 FBI agents to do the job.

Nixon's new move was announced at a White House briefing by Republican congressional leaders after they had met for nearly three hours with the President, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

As described to newsmen, the legislation proposed to Congress would trigger instant federal intervention when bombings, arson and terrorist acts affect a college or university receiving federal assistance. That includes virtually all institutions of higher learning.

Nixon proposed that the FBI add 1,000 agents to deal with campus outbreaks of the sort involved and to assist in programs aimed at thwarting aerial hijacking. The FBI now has about 7,000 agents.

House GOP Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan quoted Hoover as reporting that the organization Students for a Democratic Society was directly involved in 247 arson cases and 462 personal injury incidents in the past academic year. He said these were in addition to about 300 other episodes of destruction of other facilities or property.

Ford, predicting congressional enactment of the legislation, declared, "I think it will have a beneficial effect."

He said instances of campus terrorism "have increased in number, tempo and seriousness" and thus prompted Nixon's recommendation.

New Feature Keeps Public Up With News

Readers are noticing a new feature called "Your News Quiz" published each week by the Hope Star. It appears each Tuesday.

The new feature includes a symbol or picture quiz section. The reader matches cartoons, faces, and symbols with the proper clue.

This is an entertaining Quiz that takes only a few minutes to do. It is designed for the entire family, from "seven to seventy."

The News Quiz is a public service of the Star. It supplements the current events materials furnished by the Star to all schools in Hope and the surrounding area.

In these schools, teachers receive VEC News Filmstrip Program published by Visual Education Consultants, Inc., Madison, Wisconsin. Students learn and discuss current events by viewing newsphotos from around the globe. Detailed Teacher's and Narration Guides accompany the filmstrip.

Students use the News Quiz to review the news and prepare for current events class meetings and examinations.

Teachers believe that parent interest helps students in their school work. For this reason, the Star feels that adults will find the News Quiz doubly helpful — not only to improve their own knowledge of the world but to encourage their children to read the news and be prepared for current events lessons.

Many parents urge their children to clip the News Quiz and to keep it in their school notebooks for review purposes. It is invaluable as reference material for current events discussion and as preparation for tests.

In addition, students are encouraged to clip and save other interesting and important news items for their notebooks. In this way, home activity can help students meet educational goals

We hope you try this interesting way of keeping track of the prominent newsmakers of 1970. Try the Quiz today on Page 4. Answers are on Page 3.

The News Quiz is one of the VEC Instructional materials that are sponsored by the Star as part of its Living Textbook Program for participating area schools.

$290,000 U.S. Grant to AM&N College

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D - Ark., announced Monday that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has released a $290,000 grant to Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff.

Pryor said the funds would be given to students in the form of National Defense Loans.

Last week, the department announced the amounts given to other colleges and universities in the state but declined to release the amount allotted to the Pine Bluff school.

The school's financial records were under audit. Liabilities of more than $1.3 million for the college was reported last week along with a $92,000 shortage in the cash fund.

U.S. Promises to Fight 'Decay in the World's Monetary System'

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer

COPENHAGEN (AP) I U.S. Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy promised the non-Communist world's financial authorities today that the United States would keep down government spending and not "fuel an excessive burst of demand."

He told the annual meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund:

"We fully acknowledge that the inflationary process in the United States, as in the world at large, is not yet under full control. As elsewhere, the response has been slower than experience or theory would have led us to expect."

Valery Giscard d'Estaing, the French finance minister, criticized U.S. policy as stimulating inflation elsewhere.

To combat "decay in the world's monetary system" he proposed an international effort to control the market in Eurocurrencies largely American dollars outside the United States. This huge stock of funds, estimated at more than $45 billion, has added greatly to American influence over the world economy in recent years.

Giscard said that the dollar ought to have a "highly fixed" value if it is to be a standard for others.

Thousands of young people demonstrated in the streets Monday to protest the presence at the meeting of former U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, now president of the World Bank.

About 2,000 demonstrators marched to the meeting hall Monday shouting "Hang McNamara!" Some 600 policemen protected the building. McNamara was not inside at the time.

Bands of youths hurling firecrackers and stones roamed the streets well past midnight. Some 30 demonstrators were arrested and some were hurt, although no figures on the number

10,000 Reported Dead as Jordan, Guerrilla Forces Continue Battle

U.S. Steadily Building Up in Mid-East

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although President Nixon is steadily reinforcing U.S. military power in the eastern Mediterranean, officials say he still is searching for a diplomatic solution to the Jordanian crisis.

At the same time Nixon apparently has run into opposition from two key allies, Britain and France, to his contingency plans for intervention in Jordan. Diplomats here also reported deep uncertainty over whether King Hussein himself has clearly signaled a need to Nixon for assistance in saving his regime.

The administration and the Jordanian ruler, whose regime is beset by Palestinian guerrillas opposed to his peace policy, have been exchanging messages but informants said Hussein's

Interest Rate Cut by 4 Big Banks

NEW YORK (AP) — Four of the nation's seven largest banks have cut their prime interest rates in the latest round of reductions.

The cuts in the prime rate to 7½ per cent from 8 per cent was triggered Monday by Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, the nation's fifth largest bank.

By the end of the business day more than 40 banks, both big and small, had cut the rate they charge their biggest and most creditworthy customers.

Among the big banks that followed were Bank of America of San Francisco, the world's largest bank; Chase Manhattan, the nation's third largest bank, and Chemical Bank, the nation's sixth largest. Chase Manhattan and Chemical Bank are headquartered in New York.

A spokesman for the Federal Reserve Bank of New York said that "directly and immediately there would be little effect on consumers."

Arab Leaders Seek Way to End Fighting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jordanian and Palestine guerrilla forces battled in Amman and in northern Jordan today in the sixth day of a conflict that Cairo radio declared had cost 10,000 lives.

Syrian and Jordanian tanks slugged it out on the rocky stretches of northern Jordan in the area where Jordan has charged—and Damascus denied—that Syria had intervened. Syria says the tanks are manned by Palestinian guerrillas.

Arab leaders assembled in Cairo to consider methods to stop the conflict in Jordan, with some advocating military intervention.

While the summit conference opening was ostensibly set for noon EDT, it more or less began at 4 a.m., EDT, with a series of private informal discussions among the leaders of Egypt, Sudan, Libya and Kuwait, followed by a joint meeting with Syrian President Neureddin Atassi.

Egypt warned against any American intervention in Jordan as a "hostile action against the whole Arab people."

Information Minister Mohammed Hassanein Heikal told a news conference in Cairo that U.S. action in the midst of the Jordanian strife would have repercussions far beyond the Middle East.

Warning against any American action in Jordan, Heikal said this could not rescue the 54 hostages—38 of them U.S. citizens—held by Palestinian guerrillas since multiple plane hijackings Sept. 6 and Sept. 9.

"Instead," he said, "it would only threaten their lives. It would push those holding these hostages into desperate action and nobody will be able to protect them."

The Soviet Union formally advised Britain it opposes foreign intervention in the Jordanian conflict, informed diplomats reported in London.

Cairo radio quoted Heikal as saying at least 10,000 persons were dead in Jordan, including 7,000 in refugee-crowded Wahdat camp southeast of Amman.

Heikal said guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat reported the camp was 80 per cent destroyed. Its population was believed to be about 31,000.

Heikal also said he did not believe the two principals in the Jordan Drama, King Hussein and Arafat, will attend the emergency Arab summit conference in Cairo.

The United States continued to reinforce its military power in the eastern Mediterranean, but officials in Washington said President Nixon was still searching for a diplomatic solution to the crisis and that U.S. warships were standing by only in case they were needed to evacuate the 400 or so Americans in Jordan.

The U.S. ships were stationed less than 100 miles off the Israeli coast, within short fighter range of Jordan, and the Pentagon alerted troops in the United States and Germany to prepare "to support an evacuation operation for Americans in Jordan should that be necessary."
